Maths with parents

Maths with Parents works closely with many UK schools to support parents and children with Maths. We have joined them this year and many parents have let us know that they find the film clips really helpful when deciding how best to support their child. They tell us that the links to Maths in the real world and the games they are given to play, have been great fun in their households. If you have not yet had a chance to look at their website yet, see our own school website for details.
